

LOYOLA
UNIVERSITY
NEW ORLEANS

VICE PRESIDENT FOR INSTITUTIONAL ADVANCEMENT

August 13, 2007

Ms. Deborah Kuchler
Abbott, Simses and Kuchler
400 Lafayette Street, Suite 200
New Orleans, LA 70130

Dear Ms. Kuchler:

Thank you for your generous gift of $3,000 to Loyola University New Orleans. As per your wishes, your gift will be designated to the Abbott, Simses and Kuchler Scholarship in the College of Law to be earmarked for a minority law student. Your support will provide a great legal education in the Jesuit tradition to someone who otherwise may not have had the opportunity to attend Loyola.

Loyola University New Orleans ranked seventh in the category of "Best Universities—Masters in the South" in the 20th annual "America's Best Colleges" issue and guidebook published by U.S. News & World Report. For the last 16 years, Loyola has retained its position among the top 10 regional universities in the South. The College of Law is featured in Princeton Review's 2007 "Best 170 Law Schools" guide. The rankings are a reflection of the academic excellence of our faculty and the talent of our students.

As we prepare to enter our second century, Loyola remains true to its rich Jesuit heritage by continuing to educate the whole person in the Ignatian tradition, teaching students to think critically and act justly, and to be men and women for others. The financial support of our alumni, parents, and friends, helps to ensure that we can continue our work as a leading Jesuit university and provide the same quality education received by past students for many generations to come.

On behalf of the entire Loyola community, thank you once again for your commitment to and investment in the future of Loyola University New Orleans.

Sincerely,

Victoria A. Frank

VAF/kc

According to I.R.S. regulations, no goods or services were given to you in return for this contribution. Please consult with your tax advisor to determine the tax deductibility of your gift.